

A Lot to be Said

There's a lot to be said

For not being dead

You get to eat bacon

And sourdough bread

You get to see oceans

And mountains and trees

And hot air balloons

Floating by in the breeze

There's kittens and puppies

And sunsets and stars

And songs with pianos

And drums and guitars

There's daydreams and doodles

And sunshine and snows

Ans stories of heroes

Who vanquish their foes

Yes, being alive wins

The champion's cup

Except for the people

Who screw it all up
